

Here's his "About Me" profile from Facebook:

just a dude trying to do good with himself.

I'd say your Kleenex and lotion bill proves you're off to a good start in that department. Josh has more dried semen in his shower drain than Courtney Love has in her esophagus.

i'm a pacifist and about all around unity. i'm a goofjob with the soul of a clown.

Of course it's well known that to claim the soul of a clown all you have to do is fuck a clown in the ass.

i laugh at inappropriate moments cuz i just like to laugh.

Just like retards!

i'm shy at first, but the chatterbox that won't close once you get to know me.

The last time a chatterbox closed around any part of Josh, Giuliani was mayor.

i'm impulsive and i like to go on adventures that are either poorly or unplanned.

Luckily for Josh, our parents are also fond of things that are poor and unplanned.

i'm also lazy... yeah, it's true... i enjoy layin around and doing nothing.

Someone should tell Josh that fucking a hole in a warm cantaloupe doesn't qualify as doing nothing.

i'm childish for my age and that's cool with me.

Josh is childish like people who are peckish just want a little peck of something. Josh is hungry for sex with children.

i don't really care about judgements from others cuz i think we should all concentrate on ourselves.

Which is, of course, the perfect defense for someone who has never been judged positively by anyone in his life. Even Chet thinks Josh is irresponsible.

there's always room for self improvement.

By improvement, Josh means “fiddling”.

i don't put my myspace or facebook on private cuz i'm not ashamed and i got nothing to hide from anybody and I don't understand how computers work.

i enjoy a drink at my favorite bar.

The Manhole.

i enjoy parties and crazy times!

So did Freddy Mercury.

i'll speak my mind to anyone who'll give me an ear and i'm also a great listener.

i love my friends and my family and though i ain't rich, i wouldn't trade what i got for being rich. i'd only take being rich as an addition to my life already. i try not to attach myself to material possessions. i enjoy good company over the latest tech gadget.

Josh wrote this before he realized that a warm cantaloupe with a hole in it counts as a tech gadget.

also, i'm a casual dude, very casual. i don't do well in situations where you need to "dress up" or "class up."

Or “stay sober”. Or “read”.
